Dear Sir/Madam,

Running successfully a SME company in today's competitive market is a very big challenge. To make any business successful, one has to make the two part of business correctly – first part is Business Design & second part is Business Operation. Even B-Schools teach only Business Operations (MBA: Masters in Business Administration).

We train managers/entrepreneurs to design a business correctly (visit www.abhijitnagconsulting.in). We are going to hold a 2 day training program for SME companies of Mumbai, where we will train the executives, so that eventual corporate failures can be avoided.

You are invited to participate with your managers and seize the golden opportunity.

Thank you

Mumbai

yours faithfully
